

What's New This Year on American Cruise Lines

Brand New Ship, American Melody, to Launch in 2021

As we start to travel again, it's also time to update our travel bucket lists. Cruise fans, this means being the first among your friends to try new cruises and new cruise offerings.

American Cruise Lines, the U.S. leader in small ship cruising, offers visits to beautiful landscapes and historic landmarks, with 35+ itineraries across 28 states. What's more, it's launching a brand new ship in 2021, and introducing exciting new excursions and itineraries.

New Ship, American Melody

American Cruise Lines boasts the newest fleet in the country, including the soon-to-debut American Melody. The fourth in the modern riverboat series, the Melody will be a luxurious vessel for Lower Mississippi itineraries. Spacious staterooms feature private balconies and full-size bathrooms, and there's an impressive four-story glass atrium in the center of the ship. Even so, the Melody can travel close to shore and dock in amazing destinations like New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

New Itineraries

Three new itineraries roll out this year as well. The 8-day Cape Codder, roundtrip from Boston, includes an exclusive partnership with the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. The 8-Day Music Cities cruise between Nashville and Memphis spotlights American music, with complimentary extended pre-and post-cruise packages. An 11-day Alaskan Explorers cruise, roundtrip from Juneau, has added more ports like Glacier Bay and a complimentary pre-cruise package.

New Excursions

Known for its well-designed enrichment programs on-board and ashore, American has added over 50 new guided, small-group shore excursions, including wildlife and whale watching adventures. Many include outdoor adventures perfect for the active traveler, like kayaking and hiking.

Health and Safety

Our first priority is passenger and crew safety while aboard our ships. In response to the COVID-19 outbreak, American Cruise Lines has instituted comprehensive, industry-leading protocols to ensure safe cruises and clean ships. These include enhanced cleaning and sanitation procedures in all communal areas and staterooms. Dining practices have been adjusted for social distancing. Extensive screening of all tour venues ensure social distancing and sanitation. Onboard medical staff are trained in outbreak management.

In addition, our Cruise With Comfort program provides flexible trip cancellation.

Disclaimer: These practices do not eliminate risk. They are designed to reduce risk and slow the spread of illness by removing known transmission sources, increasing awareness, and speeding response time.
